FRENCH REFUSE TO ARM GERMANY

Removal Of Route 14 From Salem Opposed; Traffic Survey Planned

Almost unanimous opposition to the re-routing of Route 14 out of Salem was voiced by the 30 persons, representing the city, civic and business groups and Columbiana interests, who gathered in the Council chambes Thursday afternoon to discuss the pros and cons of the proposed bypass.

As a result of the meeting, Dean Sever, Division 11 engineer for the state highway department, said he would recommend that the state make a survey of traffic in Salem as a means of determining what traffic the city could handle.

Directing their remarks to a transcript that will be forwarded to State Highway Director S. O. Linzell, almost all of those attending aired objections to the plan that would re-route the highway from Columbiana to Deerfield, bypassing Salem.

Enters Plea for Change

However, Columbiana Ledger Editor Wayne Paulson, representing the Columbiana Kiwanis Club, entered a strong plea for the change.

Referring to the number of auto accidents at the intersection of Routes 14 and 46, Paulson said, "Columbiana has dead and injured on our doorstep so that traffic can come to Salem."

A cloverleaf intersection would alleviate the problem which, at present, is too much of a hazard to be permitted to exist, he said.

Attorney Guy Mauro, speaking for the merchants and hotel and restaurant operators of Salem, said the action should be delayed at least until the effect the turnpike has had on traffic through Salem is determined.

Two city councilmen, Arthur Hanna and Herman Kniseley, emphasized that the city was better able now to handle the route's traffic than at any other time in years.

Cites Recent Improvements

Hanna said that the state recently spent close to $100,000 for the widening of State St. and $325,000 for the improvement of Route 14, just east of Salem. During the war, Salem handled the additional traffic of Route 224 and 30, he said.

At this point, Sever said he would recommend that the state make a survey of traffic in Salem.

A. G. Tame, Farmers Bank vice president, suggested that a similar survey be made on Route 224, the highway that will be called upon to carry some of the extra traffic if the change is made.

A North Benton motel owner, Earl C. Hoyle, stated that Route 224 had the highest accident rate in this district. "Why add to the highway's present burden by adding Route 14's traffic," he asked.

Says Traffic Reduced

"Already," he said, "the turnpike has cut traffic on Route 14 90 per cent."

Driver Arrested In Crash Fatal To 3

The driver of an automobile which was involved in a Route 62 crash near Canton last Sunday that killed a Salem man and woman and the woman's son was charged yesterday with traffic manslaughter and three other offenses.

The defendant, 47-year-old Richard Cameron of Alliance, is in the Mercy Hospital in Canton with head and leg injuries.

Besides manslaughter, Cameron was charged with reckless driving, speeding and crossing left of center on the highway.

Killed in the accident which occurred four miles northeast of Canton were Frank Charlton, 65, of the Benton Road, his sister, Mrs. Helen Redman, 77, of RD 2, Salem and her son, Wilbur Bogner, 51, of Calla in Mahoning County.

State patrolmen reported at the time that Cameron's car swung wide on a curve and struck the other automobile driven by Charlton. Mr. Charlton's wife Ota, is still in the Canton Hospital in serious condition.

Three Drivers Fined By Mayor Of Lisbon

LISBON — Three Columbiana county truck drivers charged with driving overloaded vans were fined a total of $50 and costs Thursday by Mayor Wilbur Warren, and a Lisbon area citizen was fined $10 for a traffic violation.

The truckers, Gail Lee Phillis, 26, of RD 3, Salem and Charles Ingledue, 23, of Leetonia were each fined $25 for exceeding the weight limit. Joseph J. Chestnut of RD, Lisbon paid $10 for driving without the assured clear distance ahead.

Plot to Kill AFL Official Foiled

Alleged Hired Killer, 2 Assistants Nabbed

HACKENSACK, N.J. (AP) — An alleged plot to assassinate a union offical has been foiled by police who nabbed the men they called the hired killer and his two conspirators.

Tipped off to the slaying plot by undisclosed sources, a cordon of police closed in near the Montvale home of the union leader yesterday and arrested James E. Cobb, alias Frank Green, 33, of Tampa, Fla., on a charge of conspiracy to commit murder.

Police said he was to ambush Paul Hall, 40, secretary-treasurer of the 75,000member Searfarers' Union (AFL). Cobb was arraigned early today on charges of conspiracy, attempt to commit a homicidal act, and carrying a concealed weapon.

Two Others Held

Two others, said to have had a hand in the plot, were arraigned as co-conspirators. Arrested after an all-night investigation were Carmen Priore, 52-year-old salesman, of the Hotel Hargrove, New York, and Edward Taffe, of West Milford, N.J.

Bergen County Prosecutor Guy Calissi said Cobb admitted he was going to kill Hall by the first of the year or $15,000.

Detectives were working today on the many angles in the case, seeking the man or men who put up the money for the alleged slaying plot.

Earned $28,000 A Year

Hall, as secretary-treasurer, is the top man in the Seafarers' Union, at a salary of $28,000 a year. He is now running for reelection in an election which started Nov. 15 and ends Jan. 15.

His rival, Ray White of Tampa, Fla., was arrested at his home on an open charge at the request of authorities here. White, who has been president of the AFL Central Trades and Labor Assembly in Tampa, denied any connection with the case.

Europe's Vicious Gales Abate; 74 Dead, Damage Tremendous

LONDON (AP) — Europe's vicious winter gales abated today, leaving at least 74 persons dead and a tremendous damage bill. Prospects were bright for a calm and peaceful Christmas.

Rescue workers stood guard along West Europe's low - lying areas against sudden new storms that might hurl the sea through life-saving dikes.

But ttpotts from Holland, Belgium, the English east coast, Denmark and north Germany were that the sea walls had generally held firm through the three-day assault. The hours of crisis were believed over.

In Holland, gale warnings were replaced by warnings against strong winds and the state of emergency was canceled.

The British army and air force restored Christmas leave to thousands of servicemen alerted to fight possible floods.

But in Switzerland, the big winter resort of Zermatt was isolated during the night by avalanches and landslides in the narrow valley connecting it with the outside world.

Twelve persons died in West Germany's storms and two were reported killed in the Communist zone.

Nine storm deaths were reported in Britain and one in Belgium.

Tht 2,928-ton Danish steamer Gerda Toft lost 29 crew members in the North Sea. The men abandoned ship in a lifeboat, which later was sighted capsized.

Nineteen crew members of the 1,352-ton Belgian freighter Henri Deweert were given up for lost in the North Sea. The ship messaged Wednesday that she was sinking, and no trace of her has been found.

Foster Children Are Remembered, Thanks To Public

LISBON — A flock of civilian Santa Clauses loaded their sacks with baby dolls tyo cars and games today and sped away in high-powered cars to deliver surprises to unfortunate children.

The good St. Nicks are County Welfare Department workers and their sacks are shopping bags, paced with toys for the younger wards and clothing for the older ones.

Rigby Mast, welfare director, his crew has been working the past two days sorting out appropriate gifts for some 200 children, and carrying them to their foster homes for a place under the Christmas tree.

Mast said the usual case of insufficient gifts for the older children exists again this year. But they will not be neglected since about $760 has been given by individuals and organizations to buy presents.

"This is the best respose we have ever had to this worthy cause," Mast said.

No White Christmas For Most Of U. S.

It looks as if most of the nation will not have a white Christmas, the Weather Bureau says.

There is quite a bit of snow from northern New England and upstate New York state into sections of the Great Lakes region and in the mountain areas in the West.

But Santa Claus will find no use for his sleigh in most other parts of the country tomorrow.

Snow flurries or light showers fell during the night across most of the Great Lakes region into New England. The only other precipitation was in the Pacific Northwest.

4 Beria Aides Shot In Russia

2 Lesser Officials Get Prison Terms

MOSCOW (AP)—A former minister of state security and three other old associates of purged police boss Lavrenti P. Beria have died before Soviet firing squads. Two lesser officials have been sentenced to long prison terms.

A government communique announced last night the fate of ex-Minister Viktor Semenovich Abakumov and five of his one time aides in the State Security ministry. All were charged with treason and political sabotage.

The communique was printed in the government newspaper Izvestia on the first anniversary of the official disclosure of Beria's execution by a firing squad. Izvestia said the latest sentences were passed by the military tribunal of the Soviet Supreme Court in Leningrad following a trial that lasted from Dec. 14 to Dec. 19. There was no indication when they were carried out.

(In London, a source well informed on Soviet affairs said the purge indicates a struggle still is going on among powerful figures within the Soviet Union and Premier Malenkov himself may be seriously involved. The informant identified Abakumov as a one-time private secretary to Malenkov).

Sebring Man Unhurt As Train Hits Car Here

A 27-year-old Sebring man, Homer A. McKee of 679 W. Oregon St., narrowly escaped injury or death today when his car skidded onto a railroad crossing here and was struck by a Pennsylvania passenger train.

McKee told police he jumped out of his auto seconds before the eastbound train struck the car at 6:25 a.m. on the W. Pershing St. crossing. The Sebring man said he was driving east and attempted to stop for the train, but ice on the slope approaching the tracks sent his car into a skid. The front end of the 1954 model car was demolished.

F. L. Kerr, conductor, reported no damage to the train.

Lisbon Gas Blast Victim Improving

LISBON — Ted F. Gallo, 46, gas blast victim, is reported improving at Salem City Hospital today.

He and his 16-year-old son, Ross, were injured i nan explosion which tore their N. Beaver St. home on Wednesday night.

Physicians expressed some doubt concerning the father's cut eye. A local doctor who examined Gallo after the disaster said he may lose the sight in his right eye.

Bruce Cox of Salem, local manager for the Natural Gas Company of West Virginia, said the $20,000 blast was blamed on a broken gas collar.

Mrs. Gallo, Ross and her daughter, Linda, will spend Christmas at the home of Ross Gallo, Ted's brother, on the East Liverpool Rd.

Mendes-France Is Stunned By Surprise Vote, To Stake His Government On Second Ballot

PARIS (AP)—For the second time in four months, the French Assembly refused today to approve German rearmament. But Premier Pierre Mendes-France quickly announced he would call a second vote and stake his government's life on a final okay.

The deputies stunned Mendes-France by rejecting 280-259 a treaty calling for West German rearmament within a projected seven-nation West European Union (WEU). Most observers had predicted the pact would get at least a small majority.

The Premier had been so confident of ratification that he did not make the vote a confidence issue. The pact had been given a preliminary vote of approval by the Assembly last October.

The opposition this time was strengthened by members of the Popular Republican Movement (MRP), which led the campaign for the now-defunct European Defense Community plan. The Assembly killed this proposal last Aug. 30.

MRP Join Voting

MRP speakers earlier had indicated its members would abstain in the vote on the WEU treaty but the party decided at a last minute recess meeting last night to oppose the Premier.

Immediately after the official count was announced, Mendes-France announced he would call for a second reading on the treaty, one of four interlocking accords aimed at enlisting 500,000 West German troops in Western defense.

The Premier also announced the new vote—expected sometime next week—would be a confidence question. He and his Cabinet will have to resign if the Assembly persists in its rejection of the pact.

In a succesSon of votes during a harrowing all-night session, the Assembly approved restoration of West German sovereignty and a French-German accord on the disputed Saar—two of the three other pacts.

Mendes-France announced that the fourth, calling for West Germany's entry into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, would be made a confidence issue. Under Assembly rules, this automatically postponed the vote until Monday.

The Premier also lumped three proposed amendments together as another confidence question. This too will come up Monday for decision. Two of the amendments aim at delaying ratification of the pacts. Mendes - France opposes these. But he wants the Assembly to approve the third, which asks that the four accords be treated as an unit in the ratification process.

Hungary Gives 'Asylum' To Field, Wife

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Hungary announced today Noel and Herta Field have won political asylum in this Communist country, which imprisoned them for five years as spies.

This latest development in the lives of the American couple—central figures in one of the cold war's greatest international mysteries—was disclosed in a communique from the official Hungarian News Service. It said:

"Noel H. Field and his wife, Herta K. Field, American citizens, asked for political asylum from the government of the Hungarian People's Republic. The Hungarian government has granted the asylum."

American diplomats had no advance word. They learned the news from correspondents.

"I really cannot comment—what could I say?" said a spokesman for the American legation in the absence of U.S. Minister Christian M. Ravndal, who is on leave.

Field, a former U.S. State Department official, and his German-born wife were released Nov. 17 after serving five years in Hungarian prisons on spy charges.

American diplomats in Budapest have seen them only once—24 hours after the Hungarian government announced they were freed and all charges against them dropped.

A candlelight service will be conducted by Rev. Kuitunen at 11 p.m. Christmas eve.

The Junior School in Christian Education gathered Thursday while the Senior class in Christian education met Monday.

The Brotherhood sponsored the family night Christmas party on Wednesday. Dave Roller was general chairman for the program and games.

John A. Cross and Mrs. James M. Dickson have been elected to audit accounts of the church and its affiliated organizations. They have asked treasurers of the various organizations to bring the account books to the pastor's study.

The Sunfay School was host to the annual Christmas program for all church members last Sunday.

The Emma Naffziger Women's Missionary Society will meet on Tuesday at 2 p.m. Hostess is Mrs. Woodrow W. Bailey, devotions by Mrs. Albert W. Lang and the leader, Mrs. Ralph S. Hendricks.

HEAD OSU RESEARCH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State University officials yesterday announced appointment by trustees of Dr. Frederick W. Heimburger as chairman and ex-officio member of the new OSU Advisory Council on Research. Dr. Heimburger, OSU vice president for faculty, curriculum and research, heads the group which will direct the university's 3-million-dollar yearly research program.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

As we pause in the gaiety of Christmas, let's think first of the Nativity of Him who is the hope of the world today, as two thousand years ago. He alone can bring about the peace of mind and contentment which we eagerly search for and need. May we follow His teachings so that the true spirit of Christmas can remain with us through the days to come.

The Pilgrimage That Begins At Home

Recently I stood on a road outside the little town of Bethlehem and watched a man leading a donkey on which was seated a sweet faced woman with a baby in her arms. It startled me, for it was for all the world just like Joseph, Mary and Jesus.

Dr Peale

In the almost 2,000 years since Joseph brought Mary to Bethlehem, little there changed. The people dress very much the same and live as they probably did in Biblical times; Bethlehem remains, as it was then, a small village, famous then only because it was the birthplace of Benjamin, the scene of the Book of Ruth, and the home of David, and beloved now because it was the birthplace of Christ.

In the world into which Jesus was born, there were other cities, much more important than Bethlehem and, indeed, other countries more powerful than Palestine. Alexandria, Babylon and Tiberias were the major centers of ideas and learning. And there was Rome, the Eternal City from which Emperor Augustus ruled the world. Athens had only just been displaced as a center of political power and was still the seat of the glorious Hellenic spirit of art and beauty. Other Greek cities and city-states such as Thessaly, Sparta, Miletus, Corinth, Syracuse and Rhodes were famous throughout the world.

BUT NOW, twenty centuries later, Bethlehem influences more mutitudes than all these cities taken together.

When Augustus died, he was deified by the Roman people because they believed that a soverign whose reign seemed so efficient must be a divinity.

This was the period during which Jesus carried on His earthly ministry. Scarcely noticed by the famous men of His time, the relative importance of Jesus and the emperor is evidenced by the fact that two thousand years afterwards, many of us know of Augustus only by the words, "There went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed," told as part of Luke's story of the birth of Jesus. Why does Jesus shine like a star in history while all these others have faded into oblivion? Simply that they lived by force; He lived by love, and love is the most powerful fact in the world.

Tolstoi illustrates this truth in a charming story of two old men, Efim and Elisha, who set out to Bethlehem on a pilgrimage they had planned for many years. On their way, Elish abecame thirsty and stopped at a hut for a drink, telling Efim to go on and that he would catch up with him. Elisha entered the hut and found a family sick and dying of hunger. So great was his heart of love that he stayed with them, put them back on their feet and then resumed his journey. But soon he discovered that he had spent so much of his money helping the sick family that he could not go on and sadly returned home.

IN THE MEANTIME, Efim made his way to Bethlehem, always expecting that Elisha would catch up or perhaps had somehow even passed him and that they would meet at the Saviour's birthplace. However, Elisha did not come. Later in the Church of the Nativity on three separate occasions Efim was startled in that he seemed to see his friend in the very best and most honored place in the church. But when he tried to reach Elisha he vanished out of sight.

When Efim returned to his home in Russia he was amazed to discover that Elisha had never reached the Holy Land at all. Then Efim realized that one can through loving acts make spiritual pilgrimages to Bethlehem, and that honored places in holy shrines depend not on distances covered but on the depth of love developed in one's heart.

The message of Tolstoi and the meaning of Bethlehem to us is simply that through love and compassion and service you can build a true Bethlehem in your heart. If, from a manger in a little town in Palestine two thousand years ago, could come a message that has gripped the world long after "the glory that was Greece and the grandeur that was Rome" have become only memories then the love of Christ in our hearts is the creative influence that can bring goodwill and peace among the peoples of the world today.

Girl Gets Valuable Gift Of Servicemen's Blood

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Three-year-old Michele Rubin received a most valuable Christmas present yesterday from 76 men of the heavy cruiser Bremerton.

The 73 sailors and three Marines each donated a pint of blood for Michele, who is suffering from nephrosis. She requires the protein extract of blood—serum of albumin—to keep her alive. It takes five pints of blood to make one bottle of the serum, and Michele needs two bottles a day.

PRINCE OF PEACE

Many centuries ago, in far-away Judea, a little child was born to humble parents. Its cradle was a manger. Its surroundings were poor and unsightly. Sympathetic village women must have ministered to the needs of the mother.

But a brilliant new star shone above this humble birthplace, and those whose ears were attuned to the infinite heard an angel chorus singing "Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace, good will toward men!"

It was the birthday of the Saviour.

This story has been told often, but it loses none of its charm in the telling. It grips men today as does no other human saga. For the birth at Bethlehem turned a new page in world history and gave new hope to mankind.

Throughout the civilized world today people are singing Christmas carols and repeating the drama of the Saviour's birth. Some day, when His spirit triumphs, men will turn from war and strife to the peace that comes from God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The Nativity

(From Chapter 2, St. Luke, King James Version of the Holy Bible).

And it cacme to pass in those days that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.

And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.

And Jospeh also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judaea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David;)

To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

And she brought forth her first-born son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the fields, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon then, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not; for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

Answer To Jeremiahs

Although the selling contest between Chevrolet and Ford is the focus of interest in the automobile business as the year ends, a more significent thing than competition for first place in sales has made that contest possible.

It is the confidence of automobile manufacturers and their vast sales organizations in the potential demand for new cars in 1955.

General Motors has revealed that its five key cars — Cadillac, Buick, Oldsmobile, Pontiac and Chevrolet — have broken all sales records for new models.

Chrysler Corp., is making the same happy claim for its four-car line.

The Ford Co. apparently has been too busy trying to capture first place from General Motors to add up is production, but auto trade journals say it is smashing all prior production records.

Nash, Packard and Hudson will show their new models in January. Studebaker, which subsequently was joined with Packard for production efficiency, led off the auto fashion parade last October.

Hundreds of millions of dollar have been invested by auto manufacturers in their 1955 models, on the assumption the buying public will want the newest and the best. In one week this December, auto plants turned out more than 150,000 new model cars and 21,680 trucks. The al-time U.S. record was 196,348 new cars in one week in 1950.

As automobiles go, so goes steel and the far-flung industrial complex that feeds parts and accessories to the automobile factories. The sparkling new models coming off the production lines for 1955 are the auto industry's answer to Jeremiahs who saw nothing ahead for the United States but gloom and despair when they were bellowing their laments a year ago.

The old-fashioned family doctor has disappeared, says a writer. He probably dropped out at the same time as the old-fashioned family.

Christmas Eve

By TRUMAN TWILL

IT WAS 15 minutes before quitting time on Christmas Eve, and the Santa in front of the Bon Ton Store could hardly wait.

He had been waiting for Christmas Eve ever since he took the job three weeks ago. He would have quit on the first day if he hadn't needed the work so badly.

You don't have much choice in these matters when you are down and out and your age is showing.

"The idea is to attract the attention of people going past the store," the assistant manager had explained. "All you have to do is march up and down. You don't say anything or do anything . . . just march up and down and slow up a little everytime you pass the entrance. You get paid for a full eight-hour day and take a half hour for lunch. We won't be wanting you on Mondays."

So the Bon Ton Santa had been marching up and down from 9 to 5:30, with a half hour for lunch—forty steps each way, with a pause in front of the entrance. He liked to think of himself as a shill for the real Santa Claus inside the store.

THE SANTA out front was the most un-Santa-like Santa in the business, and he knew it. The children knew. Their mothers knew it and let him know they knew by the way they pulled their offspring away from him.

The assistant manager hadn't mentioned the hurt to a man's pride when he was supposed to symbolize something he didn't look like. It was not the hurt to his feet, nor the bite of the cold on his face and hands that had made the Bon Ton's sidewalk Santa long for Christmas Eve.

It was the hurt to his self-esteem.

He neither looked nor felt like jolly St. Nick.

His nose was long and sallow, like the rubber noses that jokers wear at parties. His battered glasses made his eyes look owlish. His face was cadaverous, like the rest of him.

His false beard, he decided when he put it on the first time, made him look like a holdup man. His tasseled cap was too big for his head and kept settling down over his ears. It looked like a red nightcap.

His Santa suit was skimpy in the legs and short in the sleeves. Moreover, it needed to be sent to the cleaners.

The Bon Ton Santa couldn't blame the mothers for avoiding him. He couldn't blame the teenagers for their ribaldry, or the adults for their incredulous appraisals.

He was a failure. What he had started as a Christmas job had turned into a penance for his age and lack of success.

He had a nose like a banana, instead of a cherry, and a belly like an ironing board, not a bowlful of jelly.

He was sick of the whole business. He wanted to call it a day, a job and a season and go home. He could eat his supper of soup, sandwiches and coffee and read himself to sleep.

Maybe he would dream about the night before Christmas when he still believed in Santa Claus and still believed in himself.

FIFTEEN MINUTES to go. Forty up and forty down. You don't have to do anything or say anything. The Santa Claus suit does everything. That was it. He could agree to one thing. He had made a lot of people look twice.

The crowds had thinned out now. Everybody was homeward bound. As darkness settled in and the night chill deepened, there were no more children to be steered around him. They were snug at home. . . for Christmas Eve. . . all except the little girl by the entrance.

She had been standing there the last time he passed, too. She was looking intently at him, instead of at the toys in the window behind her. She stepped forward as he drew near and said, "Please, Mister Santa Claus."

She was very small, with large dark eyes. They looked anxious.

"What do you want, little girl?" asked Santa, leaning down to look into her face.

"I want you to help me," the little girl said. "I want you to help me and my mommy."

"Step back here out of the way," said Santa. "Now, you tell me what you and your mommy want me to do."

The child hesitated. "I don't know whether you will want to do it," she said uncertainly. "But it would only take a few minutes. We live just two blocks down the next street over the bakery. It's not far."

"But what do you want me to do?" asked Santa, remembering his job and how soon it would be over. "I'm supposed to stay right here until the store closes."

"You could do this on your way home," the little girl explained. "All I want you to do is come with me and wish my mommy a merry Christmas. She said no one had wished her a merry Christmas this year. She's sick in bed and we're alone and I thought if I told you maybe you could cheer her up."

-:-

THE LITTLE girl's hands were closed tight on Santa's hands. Her body pressed close to his. "It would be easy for you and it would mean a lot to my mommy. She's awfully nice, and she feels so bad because she is sick and we're alone. Santa Claus is always supposed to remember . . ."

The words were tumbling out.

"I've been good," the child added, hopefully.

The Bon Ton Santa swallowed hard. "I know you've been good," he said gruffly. "But what did you pick me? There's a better Santa inside the store. There are better Santas everywhere. Why me"

"Because I like you," she said. "Because you're good and kind. Because I thought yo'd do it. Yo will, won't you?"

The Santa who had been a failure squared his shoulders. He could believe in himself once more.

-:-

"YOU CAN COUNT on me, child," he said softly. You and your mommy. I want someone to need me. I want someone to believe in me so I can believe in myself. I'll go inside the store now and take off this outfit. You wait for me inside the entrance.

A doubt crossed hsi mind. He hesitated.

"Maybe when you see me as I really am," he added, "you won't want me. I'm not much to look at, you know."

"You are wonderful to look at, was the child's reply. "I could look at you forever. Maybe you will stay with us for supper if you don't have anything else to do. I can cook soup and make sandwiches and coffee all by myself while my mommy's sick. You will stay, won't you?"

The most un-Santa-like Santa Claus in the business didn't hesitate this time.

"If you and your mommy want me to stay, I'll stay," he promised. "All three of us will have a merry Christmas. Bless you, child."

And that was how the Santa in front of the Bon Ton Store quit paying a penance for what he thought he had failed to do on Merry Christmas.

The Doctor Answers

What is evidently a common and troublesome ailment, namely cramps in the legs at night, is mentioned in two letters, excerpts from which follow.

Q — I am troubled with cramps in my legs and feet at night so much. I try bathing them in warm water and rubbing them but it does not help. What would you suggest?

Q — I am middle aged and for several years have had trouble with my legs going numb and cramping, especially at night. This does not bother me in the day. What should I do?

A — In elderly people this unpleasant condition is usually associated with poor circulation resulting from hardening of the arteries of the lower extremities or from spasms of the blood vessels there. Contrary to what one might expect, but for sound physiological reasons, these types of cramps may be brought on by the warmth of the bed.

However, cramps in the lower extremities at night are not confined to the elderly. They occur quite often in pregnancy. They may be related to the blood sugar—the longest period between meals ordinarily occurs at night. Lessened quantities of calcium in the blood may be associated with these cramps also and it is said that most of those who have them consume little or no milk which is one of the most important sources of calcium in the diet. The precise method of attempting to relieve such discomforts depends on these, and possibly other factors and will probably vary from person to person.

About this time of year anyone worth their salt will throw it on the slippery sidewalks.

The Seriousness of Christmas

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Jesus was brought into the world in a time of war and disturbance. The peace of Rome was a constant war and the enslavement of peoples to the power of Rome. It was a peace by force, a peace of bondage. Palestine was a small province in the vast Roman Empire, not a forgotten province, however, because the people were stiff-necked and proud and resisted the conquerors. The Jews who dwelt there, could not recognize the emperor as a deified man, for they lived by the law which said: "Thou shalt have no other gods before me."

Sokolsky

The eternal problem of enslaved peoples is to preserve their inner lifethe life of the spirit, the vitality of their traditions. The Jews had to a startling degree maintained their theocracy despite an environment which defled the name of God and resisted His moral law.

True there were corruptions of the spirit and in the hinterland sects appeared which sought purification so that if their lives were miserable on this earth, they could, at any rate, hope for peace in Heaven.

IF CHRISTIANS truly believe that the life of man is not casual but causal, not an accident but a directive of the Divine Intelligence, then it is essential to ponder over the historic fact that the three great monotheistic religions, Judaism, Christianity and Islam, originated in the East of Asia, in tht Crescent of Fertility which lies between Egypt and the Arabian Desert.

Judaism was the parent religion and even if we are to accept the higher criticism that it borrowed from the primitive Canaanite cults and from the Babylon of Hammurabi, it is nonetheless true that Moses did articulate the natural law in language that could not be misunderstood even by the simplest mind; that Hillel stated the law in philosophic terms; that Jesus gave to the law an authority and a breadth which brought to it universal recognition; that Paul overcame the materialism of the Roman Empire with the mystical morality which is called Christianity.

Christmas for the Western world is the birthday of a moral resurgence, of a penetration into a materialistic, decaying world of the revitalizing power of God and of morality.

In terms of Western civilization, even apart from theology and religious sectarianism, Jesus saved the West from Asiatic cultism and the strong tendency in Western Europe toward materialism.

GREAT SOCIETIES usually die from within. Power, wealth, luxury, compromise, unbelief, fear—these are the characteristics of a society which gives the appearance of still being alive but which has become so rotten that all that is needed is a slight push before a powerful wind and it falls as an ancient tree whose heart is gone.

The Western world might have returned to the savagery whence it came were it not for Christianity which saved Europe from itself. As a political result, this cannot be ignored even by those who reject the Christian saga and dogma.

Without the biblical, Old Testament, monotheistic concept of God, Christianity could not have achieved the civilization of the Western peoples. First comes God; then human liberty. And if the scoffer points to man's many failures in his forward movement toward a moral society, it is only to be noted that man s not God, that man can think, can conceive, can believe beyond his capacity to do.

None of the great moral philosophers of the human race could achieve, in his own life, the fullness of his thought. It would be asking too much of the flesh to attain the perfection of the spirit.

In this age, Christmas cannot be limited to Christians because all those who accept God's guidance, however each accepts it, must unite in a massive resistance to satan, in a united force against the amorality of Marxism.

We shall maintain or resolve our differences when the battle is over, but as of today the sons of God stand together or the Horsemen of the Apocalypse will stomp over us with their uncloven hooves.

This, too, needs to be considered by those who find a mystical religion offensive, who prefer a materialistic, pragmatic guide to man's thinking, for the battle against God could deprive them of the personality and dignity which is the mark of our civilzation.

To you and your household a holy Christmas in the blessing of God.

The Foundations

By RAYMOND MOLEY

The storm of controversy over the Reece report is likely to obscure the genuine problems involved in the management of the great tax-exempt foundations. I have already noted some of the provocative elements in those controversial aspects. It is more important to consider the serious questions of the public interest involved.

After a careful readmg of the reports, majority and minority, the replies of the large foundations, the hearings which were terminated because of the behavior of minority member Hays, and the 80 pages of the 1952 Cox committee hearings and report, a number of observations seem to me to be in order:

No one can deny the great advantages of the foundation as an institution or of the management of such institutions in the early days when they were largely limiting themselves to medical research and education and to the granting of unrestrictel sums to colleges and universities.

IT IS IN the more recent days, when some foundations have turned to other activities, that the basis of controversy has appeared.

A serious problem is raised when a foundation's resources are entirely limited to the common stock of a single going corporation. Such a problem is not present when there is diversification of assets.

Several of the foundations are afflicted with what a college president described to me as "projectitis." He defined this by saying that he had often sought help for his very worthy college from the major foundations, to find that they are willing to make grants only on such terms as to reduce the status of his college to that of a mere agent for the management of foundations to play with.

This, he added, would, if pursued, reduce the presently free institutions of higher learning to a condition of abject dependence.

THERE IS NO question in my mind, after watching the projects favored by support of the larger foundations for a number of years, that there is justification for the charge made in the majority report of the Reece committee that there has been an excessive emphasis on empiricism in so-called "social science" research.

This began in the 1920's when the Social Science Research Council was formed as a sort of holding company for a number of foundations.

There was then and there still is a bland and naive but dangerous belief that through the methods of the natural sciences alone the nature of man and his conduct can be weighed, measured, and controlled.

This purely materialistic attitude violates the beliefs of many religions and schools of philosophy. It also runs counter to the common sense of millions of Americans.

There is, of course, room for measurements, counting of noses, and objective observation to supplement older concepts of human behavior. But to rely implicitly upon the slide rules, questionnaires, and other emprical substitutes for judgment is to accept a philosophy of which Marx was the most logical exponent.

IN ANSWER to those who claim that materialism and empirical research have been overstressed, Dean Rusk, president of the Rockefeller Foundation, makes the absurd statement that the only alternative to his methoc is a "retreat into enforced ingorance" and that "knowledge is to be preferred to superstition and prejudice."

He might be reminded that a brand new superstition is abroad in the land — the belief that human conduct and natural phenomena are basically identical and can be controlled by the same methods.

It's funny how often you can tell by what you had for lunch downtown what you're going to have for dinner at home.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

The Christmas Dawn

No journey for the rest of his life will take in so much territory and reveal more wonders than a child's trip from a bedoom to the foot of the tree Christmas morning. It may cover only a dozen stairs. But this is the unforgettable excursion . . . the everlasting adventure . . the grand tour. This is a trek across the heavens and the safari among the stars. Just a few short steps from one room to another at the first break of dawn; yet never again will any journey, however far by Baedeker, open so many vistas, reveal so many glories and leave so many things on which to ponder.

-:-

A child may, in later years, meet great people, see potentates, tycoons, heroic figures and amazing performers. But they will never seem as real as the wise men, the Magi and the shepherds. No famed personage will come close to the importance of the sheep and the cattle in the manger at the foot of the spruce.

rem will linger always. Pausing spellbound, a

The image of the Mother and Babe of Bethlehem will linger always. Pausing spellbound, a child is whisked into the company not only of God and the Glorious Company of the Manger, but of Kris Kringle, Hans Christian Andresen, Clement Clarke Moore, Alice in Wonderland and all the wonderful people of history, of enchanting stories and of Holy Gospels. What songs, what pageants, what stories, what records, what music will ever stir the heart more?

In years to come a child may be cynic and skeptic, but now there is the complete belief. Even in old age, however, when he or she has been knocked about, disillusioned and filled with doubts, the lights on the first Christmas tree will glisten in tender memory and the spell of the birth in the Manger will move him or her to some degree.

The silver ball high up on the tree may have been found at a five and ten, but to a child on Christmas morning it is something from the Taj Mahal The green and blue pendants just out of a battered dusty cardboard box in the cellar come to him from the reinbow with a stop along the milky way.

The shimmering ropes of tinsel are from the Prince's pumpkin coach, the jewel boxes of the fairyland queens and the gardens of Paradise. The living room becomes a Never-Never Land. The angel far atop the tree is Peter Pan.

All this is but for a few fleeting moments, just before the moppet makes a break for the packages, to tear them open in a frenzy of joy, but those few moments of enchantment will be enduring. Yes, even when somebody brings the dreaded news there is no Santa and that pop and mom do it all. This Christmas day will become hectic and disordered, but at dusk when the lights go on the tree again the eyes of children will again reflect all that is sweet, holy, and unspoiled by doubt.

The greater wonder of Christmas is not in the Fifth Avenue store windows, the blazing city decorations, the pageants, the church services, the countless songs of rare beauty, or the gifts spread everywhere . . . The greater glory is in the eyes of a child.

This department wishes all its readers the best of all Christmases. The relationship between readers and a newspaper columnist is pretty impersonal. But a column conductor tries to make life a little happier for many, and hopes he is fairly successful. And through the year there are countless people who take the time to drop a line of approval. These letters are often pretty wonderful.

In Yuletide many readers send us Christmas cards, always among our most reasured, for they are from the folks we have never seen and who do not know us, yet include us in their Christmas thoughts and so we express to them and to all readers our warmest greetings.

May their stockings be too small to hold the gifts this year!

To innumerable publishers, editors, and certainly to printers and proofreaders go our very best. They, perhaps, have had the headaches.

Anyhow Merry Christmas!

36th Count To Be Made Sunday

Ever Wonder How Many Birds Exist Here? Ask Bird Club

The 36th Christmas count of birds in the Salem area will be conducted Sunday by the Salem Bird Study Club.

This will be the first census sponsored by the local group, which was organized last spring.

The earliest count in this vicinity was made on Christmas day, 1909, by Henry W. Weisgerber, pioneer Salem naturalist, and George S. Cooper, an engineer for the old Buckeye Engine Co., who walked 7½ miles and listed 147 birds of 15 species. In 1910 the first count at Lisbon was made by Robert J. Hole and Sen. Charles A. White, father of Mrs. R. W. Broomall of N. Ellsworth Ave.

Christmas counts were started nationally in 1900 by Dr. Frank M. Chapman of the American Museum of Natural History, New York, to replace the traditional "Christmas Shoots" in which gunners competed for the largest number of birds of all kinds. In the first year 27 observers took part in 25 counts, listing 10,000 birds. In 1953 nearly 7400 people took part in the 521 counts published in Audubon Field Notes. More than nine million birds were counted.

In the Salem survey, held Jan. 3, four parties spent a total of 26 hours, walked 31 miles and drove 26 miles to list nearly 1200 birds of 46 species

OBSERVERS RANGE over areas limited by a 15-mile diameter. The center of the Salem territory is 2½ miles south of Salem, and the local observers cover the Middle Fork of Little Beaver Creek from Salem to McKinley Crossing and portions of the Mahoning River, Cold Run, Cherry Valley Run, Stone Mill Run, and the West Fork of Little Beaver Creek. Guilford, Placentia, Zeppernick and Westville Lakes fall within the area covered.

Weisgerber and White conducted counts at Salem and Lisbon until 1916. They were assisted by Phila M. Field, former Salem teacher, Charles Conkle, Laura and Maude Edney, Miss Anna Cook, organist at the Presbyterian Church, and Robert and Maurice Hole, now of Cleveland.

After Weisgerber moved to Youngstown, following the 1916 count, the annual events were discontinued until 1924, when Paul A. Stewart, now of the Wildlife Research Unit at Ohio State University, again made one. Since 1924 the counts have been made every year escept 1929 and 1934. The largest count of individuals was made in 1926. This count listed 3400 birds, including 3000 crows. The largest number of species, 47, was counted in 1952.

NINETY-FIVE SPECIES and one additional race have been seen in the 35 counts made in this vicinity. A number of these are unusual in winter, being represented no more than three times. These are the pied-billed grebe, mute swan, Canada goose, American widgeon, pintail, shoveller, wood duck, ring-necked duck, canvasback, golden-eye, ruddy duck, hooded merganser, red-breasted merganser; American merganser, goshawk, broad-winged hawk, rough-legged hawk, Florida gallinule, coot, killdeer, Wilson's snipe, herring gull, ring-billed gull, long-eared owl, short-eared owl, saw-whet owl, yellow-bellied sapsucker, northern horned lark, long-billed marsh wren, mockingbird, hermit thrush, ruby-crownel kinglet, gray shrike, myrtle warbler, meadowlark, purple grackle, cowbird, evening grosbeak, purple finch, pine siskin, vesper sparrow Oregon junco, Lapland longspur and snow bunting.

Two species the chipping and fox sparrows have been found in Columbiana county ouside the count area.

The following more common species have also been listed:

Great blue heron, mallard, black duck, lesser scaup duck, sharp-skinned hawk, Cooper's hawk, red-tailed hawk, red-shouldered hawk, marsh hawk, sparrow hawk, ruffed grouse bob-white, ring-necked pheasant, mourning dove, barn owl, screech owl, horned owl, barred owl, kingfisher, flicker, pileated woodpecker, red-bellied woodpecker, red-headed woodpecker, hairy woodpecker, downy woodpecker, prairie horned lark, blue yaj, crow, black-capped chickadee, Carolina chickadee, tufted titmouse, white-breasted nuthatch, red-breasted nuthatch, brown creeper, winter wren, Carolina wren, robin, bluebird, golden-crowned kinglet, cedar waxwing, starling, English sparrow, redwinged blackbird, rusty blackbird, cardinal, goldfinch, towhee, slate-colored junco, tree sparrow, field sparrow, swamp sporrow and song sparrow.

Several other species of birds have been recorded in winter outside the count period, including the horned grebe, American bittern, whistling swan, gadwall, redhead duck, turkey vulture, Virginia rail, woodcock, snowy owl, Bewick's wren brown thrasher, common redpoll and white-crowneid sparrow.

Merry Christmas

New Waterford Church Heralds Christmas

NEW WATERFORD — Located on a hillside overlooking New Waterford is the New Waterford Presbyterian Church. Crowds of people have arrived from other vicinities to look at the unusual lighting effects.

Pastor of the church Rev. George Ramsey sparked a plan which he thought would brighten the appearance of the church.

Several years ago when Ramsey was a student pastor he arranged Christmas lights in nearby trees and Christmas lights also were added to the steeple. A nativity scene was recently added to what New Waterford citizens call "the Beacon on the hill"

An electronic carillon system, donated to the church by a member, John Koch, plays carols each night over a public address system.

Lisbon's Old Stone House Scene Of 19th Century Yule Setting

LISBON — A 19th century drawing room setting at Christmas time has been created by the Lisbon Garden Club and Historical Society for a three-day open house at the Old Stone House, claimed to be the oldest stone building in Ohio.

A German-style 1832 Christmas tree has been trimmed to brighten the huge 149-year-old main room where the festivities will be held Snday through Tuesday from 1 to 9 p.m.

The tree, decorated by Mrs. Aubrey Blocksom and Miss Jean Van Fossan, is designed to imitate a fir dressed by Dr. Charles Follen, German professor at Harvard University, for his son, 122 years ago. Historians believe this was the first tree trimmed in the traditional style in America.

Festooned over the spruce bough are strands of cranberries and popcorn. Apples, silver stars and cornucopias, gingerbread men, and star cocokies dangle from the limbs. Red raspberry candy drops are mounted on the twigs to represent comfits.

A final touch is given with red, green and blue halved egg shells and a homemade angel at the top.

An authentic air will be added by carols from a 90-year-old organ and a 110-year-old piano. Mrs. Perry Rigby, Mrs. Vernon Duke, Mrs. H. E. Marsden and Miss Camille Firestone will play, and Mrs. John Blocksom will sing.

The organ formerly belonged to Mrs. Daniel McBane Fraser of Wellsville RD 1. Dr. H. W. Bennett of N. Market St. contributed the antique Fischer piano.

Mrs. J. C. Gruber and Mrs. Vincent C. Judge decked the two fireplace mantles with spruce boughs, apples and white candles in ancient candelabra. A fire will be built in each fireplace, according to Mrs. George Rogers, a trustee of the Historical society who overseas the museum.

Mrs. Aubrey Blocksom trimmed the door and windows with pine and varnished red and yellow apples.

Miss Elaine Hurd, president of the garden club, is in charge of committees.

Don't Mix Drinking, Driving, Patrol Warns

"When the smart driver is offered 'one for the road' he says 'No thanks—I am driving!' "

This advice came today from Cpl. E. W. Mallery of the Ohio State Highway Patrol at Salem as he discussed the holiday traffic hazards.

"If any driver doubts the wisdom of my words," he said, "I ask him to go to the local morgues or hospitals and view some of the results of drinking and driving. I believe one such visit would convince any skeptic that drinking and driving are a fatal combination.

"According to the National Safety Council, the driver had been drinking in one out of five fatal traffic accidents in this country in 1953."

Cpl. Mallery pointed out that in December drinking and driving become a particularly serious problem because of holiday parties and celebrations.

"If people realized how much their reaction time was slowed down by alcohol," he said, "they would think twice before they even took their cars along to parties where they knew drinks were to be served. A trip home in a taxcab is a lot more practical than a trip to a hospital."

E. Fairfield Church Services Scheduled

Rev. George Bailey, pastor of the East Fairfield Methodist Church, will conduct the worship service Sunday at 10 a.m. with "A Cradle to a Cross" as his sermon theme.

Church school at 11 will be directed by Charles Crook and the topic will be "The Whole Duty of Man." Youth Fellowship will meet Sunday at 7 p.m. and Miss Dorothy Esenwein will lead the topic on "My Exxperience at College."

Evening fellowship service Sunday at 8 p.m. will deal with the subject, "What's On Your Mind?"

Cub Scout supper in the church begins Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. The choir will practice Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

A "Watch Night Fellowship" service Friday will start at 8:30 and conclude at midnight. Worship service is scheduled from 8:30 to 9:30 with fellowship from 9:30 to 11:30. A history of the past year will be presented and slides shown. Holy Communion is scheduled from 11:30 to 12.

The Nurnberg trials were a new departure in international law since it was the first time the leaders of a government had been brought to trial on the charge of starting a war.

Traffic

Lora of the Benton Road, said that while he doubted traffic had been reduced that much, the flow had decreased some because of the turnpike and he would not favor the change.

Attorney William Lodge, representing the Columbiana Chamber of Commerce, backed opponents of the plan. However, he requested that if the state did rule that the highway was to be changed, the present Route 14 from Deerfield to Canfield be renamed Route 627 "so that Columbiana would be on a state route."

Others speaking against the change were Salem City Council President James Aldom; F. W. McKee, representing the Salem Chamber of Commerce and the Salem office of the Columbiana Motor Club; Louis Mattevi of the Lape Hotel; Mayor Dean B. Cranmer and Wilbur L. Coy, representing the Salem Automobile Dealer's Association.

The proposed plan to change Route 14 calls for traffic traversing Route 46 from Columbiana to Canfield where it will follow Route 224 to Deerfield and thence north to Ravenna.

Motorists and truckers desiring to reach Salem would follow Alternate Route 14. Normal transient traffic would follow the Columbiana, Canfield, Deerfield route.

About a quarter of all deaths among Americans 25 to 44 years old are from heart disease.

Infirmary Residents Get Yule Presents

LISBON — Eighty-five men and 40 women at the Columbiana County Infirmary have been decorating the halls for Christmas and a flood of presents have been pouring in to make Saturday a meery time.

Ray Adam, superintendent, said each of the four buildings has a tree trimmed by the elderly people, and holly wreaths have been hung at the windows.

On Christmas Day the 125 men and women and 15 employes will dine on a meal of 40 roast chickens ,dressing, mashed potatoe, gravy, green beans, cranberry salad, ice cream, chocolate layer cake coffee, milk, tea ,bread and butter.

Carols were sung for the inmates by pupils from West Local School Thursday and 14 Girl Scouts from Unity sang on Monday.

Organizations throughout the county have contributed small gifts.

Here For Holiday

Rev. Carl Arnold Westphal of Michigan City, Ind., who was pastor of the First Baptist Church here 10 years ago, will attend the Baptist Christmas eve service tonight at 7:30. The minister will spend Christmas day in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stirling on Washington Ave. along with his daughter-in-law, the former Martha Jayne Stirling, and son Arlo Westphal, who also are here from Indiana for the holiday.

Churches Plan Special Services

Program Presented By Fairfield School

COLUMBIANA — Christmas Eve will be observed with special services in some Columbiana churches today.

A candlelighting service at Jerusalem Lutheran Church is set for 8 p.m. Instead of a sermon a Christmas film strip will be shown. The offering will go to the ministerial scholarship fund of the eastern district to aid young people studying for service in the church. Christmas baskets were distributed this week to sick and shut-ins. The newly - elected congregational officers will be installed at the Sunday morning service.

The candlelight service at Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church will be at 9:30 p.m. It will include musical numbers, carols, scripture and a candle dedication service. The junior and senior choirs and solo voices will be featured in the program.

THE CANDLELIGHT service at the Presbyterian Church is set for 10 p.m. There will be special music at the 10:45 a.m. service on Sunday.

Carolers from the Church of the Nazarene sang at the homes of shut-ins after the mid-week prayer service Wednesday evening.

Youth Fellowship groups from the Methodist Church will visit the homes of shut-ins at 7 p.m. today. A "coke-party" for college students, servicemen and high school seniors will be held in the church dining room at 5 p.m. Sunday.

The engagement of Miss Dorothy Jean Beard and Hubert Keylor, '54 graduates of Columbiana High School, has been announced, but no date has been set for the wedding. Miss Beard is a student in Kent Sate University, and Mr. Keylor is a student in Ohio State University. Miss Beard is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Beard, Lisbon Road, and Mr. Keylor, a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Keylor, 417 N. Main St

A Christmas program sponsored by Fairfield Parent Teacher Association was presented by Fairfield School in the school auditorium on Wednesday evening before a capacity crowd of about 300.

High school students sang a cantata, "The Child Jesus," and the first six grades gave greetings, presented a rhythm band and sang a group of Christmas melodies.

-:-

DEVOTIONS WERE conducted by Rev. George Bailey of East Fairfield Methodist Church, and special music was under the direction of Loyal B. Mould, school instructor in music.

Room mothers of Fairfield School gave Christmas parties for the children Wednesday afternoon.

At its December dinner meeting in Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church Tuesday evening, Columbiana Business & Professional Women's Club sang carols. The club's quartet also sang before the members went to the Anglemyer home for aged women for a vesper service. Reports showed that the club's Christmas fruit cake benefit was a success.

Members of the club, in quest of a suitable play for 1955, visited Youngstown recently to see "Stage Door" at the Playhouse. At their November meeting, members of the club voted to assess themselves $1 each toward the proposed new national office building in Washington.

Debt-Ridden Father Gets Happy Christmas

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—A debt-ridden young father who admitted burglaries to buy food and Christmas presents for his youngsters was free on bond today after neighbors, policemen and his landlord came to his aid.

Fred D. Ellis, 24, faced a bleak Christmas in Harvey County Jail until word of his plight spread. Neighbors collected money for him. A professional bondsman, Mike Mogle, posted $2,50 bond free of charge.

After Ellis was reunited with his wife and two children, the detectives who had arrested him arrived with boxes of gifts and food. Presents also came from Elis' landlord, who had earlier this month served an eviction notice on him.

"I'll never let those people down," Ellis said. He had lost his job in an ice house here some time ago.

YULE TREE STARTS FIRE

CINCINNATI (AP) — A flash fire that started in an artificial Christmas tree caused damage estimated unofficially last night at $20,00 in the home of Andrew L. Wolf, a bass viol player with the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra. Firemen fought the blaze for three hours. Mrs. Wolf, two other women and the Wolf's 10-year-old son, Jan, were in the room when the tree suddenly burst into flames, but none was injured.

May Head New Foundations Probe

Probe Report Brings Praise, Criticism For Wayne L. Hays

WASHINGTON (AP)—Many people find it difficult to be neutral about Ohio's Wayne L. Hays. Some conservative Republicans have labeled him "intemperate." Some pro-Eisenhower Republican newspapers have raised him as "courageous."

But the fiery Democratic representative from Flushing, Ohio — where he maintains a dairy farm of 50 acres — doesn't appear to let it bother him.

Says Hays: "I think it's best to say what you believe."

The matter that brought Hays the shower of praise and criticism was this week's House committee report on tax - exempt educational foundations, such as those promoted by the Rockefeller and Ford interests.

Republicans on this committee, headed by Rep. B. Carroll Reece (R-Tenn), insisted that some foundations "are permitting their funds to be used largely in the promotion of projects politically directed to the left."

As the top Democrat on that committee, Hays vigorously disagreed with that conclusion and said so in the minority report. He called the whole set of hearings "grossly unfair and prejudged."

That did it. Reece criticized Hays as "intemperate."

The New York Times and New York Herald Tribune, pro-Eisenhower papers, gave Hays their full backing.

Just what will happen — legislation - wise — to the foundations as a result of this report is problematical. Hays says he agrees with the New York Times, which said editorially: "The sooner forgotten the better it will be."

If there is an investigation in the new, Democratic Congress, however, Hays says he will head it, "just to make sure it's fair."

The Reece committee, he says, allowed only one real foundation representative to testify, and "he was shut off before he could finish."

Reece, meanwhile, soon will have a foundation he can directly guide away from the projects he criticized other such organizations for sponsoring.

A longtime friend and associate of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, Reece is president of the newly - formed Robert A. Taft Memorial Foundation.

This group will really get under way Jan. 7-8. Its honorary chairman is President Eisenhower. Its chairman is ex - president Herbert Hoover.

Boy Sings Birthday Greetings To Jesus

WATERTOWN, Mass. (AP)—Five-year-old Timmy Burns stood on the lawn of St. Patrick's Catholic Church yesterday gazing raptly at the figures in the nativity scene.

"Give me a nickel, Daddy," he pleaded.

Clutching the coin in his hand, Timmy scrambled onto the platform where lay the image o fthe Christ Child in a manger. He placed the nickel on the contribution plate.

Then he stepped back and sang, loudly and cheerfully:

"Happy birthday to you,
"Happy birthday to you,
"Happy birthday, dear Jesus,
"Happy birthday to you."

Father Cleared Of Murder Charges

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—First-degree murder charges against James T. Roberts, Baltimore attorney who was indicted for the kidnap-slaying of his 7-year-old daughter, have been dropped and the state indicated it might press perjury charges against a private detective.

The charges against Roberts were dropped yesterday on recommendation of State Atty. George A. Brautigam and his staff.

Roberts, at his law office in Baltimore, said:

"My only hope now is that authorities renew their efforts to locate and convict the real killer."

Judith Ann, 7, was kidnaped and slain July 7 while the Roberts family was visiting the home of Mrs. Roberts' parents in Miami. Roberts was released in $10,000 bond following a habeas corpus hearing Oct. 14.

Harry Durant, one of Brautigam's assistants, said in a statement to Circuit Judge Pat Cannon that the state lacks evidence to convict Roberts "on any degree of homicide." He said the prosecution "cannot rely upon the very material testimony of the witness C. Clarke Wood."

Children's Foster Home Gets Gifts From Ike

DANVILLE, Va. (AP)—A foster home for children near here has received Christmas presents from the White House for every one of its 73 youngsters.

It took some investigation to discover how the President ever heard of the home.

When the home recently conducted a fund drive, individual likenesses of the children were sent to the donors. One of the donors, Mrs Clay Daniel, of Danville, received a card bearing the picture of a youngster in the home who was the image of President Eisenhower. She sent the card to the President.

South Favored Over North Gridders Christmas Night

Both Squads In Top Condition

Passing, Ameche To Spearhead North

By MERCER BAILEY

MIAMI Fla. (AP)—Optimism was high in both camps today as North and South teams got in their final licks of preparation for the college all-star football game in the Orange Bowl Christmas night.

Coaches Ivy Williamson of Wisconsin and Andy Gustafson of Miami, masterminding the North and South forces respectively, reported both squads in high spirits and fine physical shape.

"We're ready," was the word from both sides.

The Yankees, who have managed to win only one and tie one in six previous Shrine charity games, were even happy about the fact that they are rated seven-point underdogs.

"There's nothing like beating a favorite," commented Pat Abbruzzi, Rhode Island halfback.

Williamson agreed the Rebels probably rate the favorite's role. But since there is such a thing as an upset, he wasn't alarmed by Gustafson's prediction that the South would win three touchdowns to two. The Wisconsin coach, and his aide, Bernie Crimmins, of Indiana, just kept smiling and promised the Southerners would know they'd been in a football game.

The NoNrth probably will rely heavily on a passing attack, punctuated by the fullback smashes of All-America Alan Ameche of Wisconsin.

In yesterday's workout, Williamson drilled his players about 50-50 on straight T and single-wing offenses. He had quarterback Duncan McDonald of Michigan and halfbacks Carl Norman of West Virginia and Rex Brock of Purdue working with Ameche in the single-wing unit. Ameche, the nation's all-time leading ground gainer with a career total of 3,212 yyards, did most of the ball carrying.

Gustafson, who will use a variation of the "belly" series off the split T as the South's major attack, had Miami quarterback Carl Garrigus, halfbacks Guddy Leake of Oklahoma and Larry Parker of North Carolina and fullback Dick Bielski of Maryland working his No. 1 unit.

The South has concentrated on a running attack in its drills.

Willie Mays Wins Slugging Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Fabulous Willie Mays, the National League's leading batter and its most valuable player, also captured the circuit's slugging title in 1954, official averages showed today.

The hard-hitting New York Giants' outfielder produced 377 total bases in 565 at bats for a slugging mark of .667. Among his extra base hits were 33 doubles, 13 triples and 41 homers.

Brooklyn's Duke Snider, the pace - setter in 1953, was runner-up to Mays with a .647 average and Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati, the majors' home run king, was third with .642.

Slugging averages are computed by dividing the total bases on all hits by the number of times at bat.

Snider actually had more total bases than Mays (378), but he batted 584 times. Kluszewski compiled 368 total bases in 573 trips. Snider also was the most frequent strikeout victim in the National League, fanning 96 times.

Toar Julian, Salem Grappler, Has Been In Pro Ranks 18 Years

Frank "Toar" Julian, Salem wrestler, now 37, looks back on 18 years of wrestling with some of the best professionals.

But, don't get the misconception that Toar is thinking of stepping out of the ring.

"Retirement is far from my mind," he said at his home on the Lisbon Road, which he built to help him keep in trim.

Toar, (that's a nickname he picked up when in school here), turned pro when he got out of high school. Since then he has covered the wrestling circuit — coast to coast, grappling with many prominent canvas artists who frequently towered above his 5 foot, 11 inch frame.

He weighs 255 now. His weight was 228 when he became a pro.

Frank Julian

TOAR WRESTLED on the West Coast last winter and this season expects to take part in wrestling cards at Buffalo, N.Y., and Erie, Pa. Two weeks ago he won over Lennie Lombardo of Youngstown at the Struthers fieldhouse, beating his opponent in five minutes with a full-Nelson.

In his 18 years of competition, Julian's only injury was a twisted knee suffered in an engagement in Argentina.

Incidentally, the South Americans think quite proudly of Toar. He won the South American title in 1942 when 36 wrestlers competed in an international elimination match. He won over the famed Argentna Roca that year. Later Roca beat him.

Salem's only wrestler admits there's a lot of showmanship in wrestling, but he's quick to point out that "most wrestlers are good, otherwise they wouldn't be in the ring."

TO THE SKEPTICS he says, "if you think they're faking, get in a ring with one of 'em."

Toar says a wrestler can win so long as he keeps himself in condition, know the holds of the other fellow and observes his weaknesses by watching him grapple with another opponent, and think faster and act faster than the other guy.

Julian never aspired to box although he used to "toughen up" by sparring with Teddy Yaroz of Monaca, Pa., onetime middleweight champion.

Off-seasons find Julian at work in the press room at the Mullins plant here.

His wife is the former Leona Knutch of Montana. They have a son Jimmy, age 3, and a daughter, Linda, age 4.

QSU Fans Won't Drive Back In 1919 Model T

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Four Ohio State football fans who drove here from Columbus in a 1919 model T Ford said they don't intend to drive back in the ancient touring car.

"Not on your life," said owner C. Malcolm Riggle, 38. "We're going to ship it by rail and fly back."

Riggle said that only a flat tire and burned out generator marred the 2,500 mile trip. Riggle, his wife, Mary, 31, and the other two passengers, J. Alfred Shuman, 38 and his wife Maxine, 33, dressed in fire red ski suits hunting boots and jackets to keep out the midwest cold.

They arrived here yesterday in the car that is old enough to have made the first Rose Bowl trek for the Buckeyes in 1921.

Voting Method For Top Player Award Rapped

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — The election of Yogi Berra as the American League's Most Valuable Player for the past season not only caused some emotional strain in Cleveland but, we learn, has encouraged the Sporting News, the semi-official house organ of baseball, to try again to place the annual balloting on a somewhat more sensible basis.

Neither the Cleveland adherents nor the St. Louis publication question the fact that the Yankee catcher was an extremely valuable factor in the Yankees' second-place finish. They only point out the obvious—that he would not have won the award of the panel of 24 writers who voted in the competition could have agreed upon which Cleveland player had the biggest part in bringing the Indians home first.

In other words, those who thought the Yankees had the league's most valuable athlete voted the straight Berra ticket. Those who thought that the pennant winner must, on the evidence, have had some pretty valuable talent on its roster couldn't decide among Larry Doby, Bobby Avila, Bob Lemon and Early Wynn.

Doby finished second, Avila third, Lemon fifth and Wynn sixth. Berra was the only Yankee in the first 10. He scored 230 points. Doby, Avila and Lemon among them mustered 599. There plainly is something wrong here, and the Sporting News is absolutely right in wishing to do something about it. However, we cannot work up any enthusiasm over its suggested solution—that each league name two most valuables each year, a pitcher and a "regular."

We still think there must be some way of setting up a list of the principal candidates for the electors to have at hand when they sit down to vote, with no more than one man from any club a candidate fofr the No 1 spot. The only weakness of our scheme is that we haven't yet figured out exactly how each club is going to pick its man.

Strader Named 49ers' Coach

Picked To Bring City First Football Title

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Norman (Red) Strader, for the past three seasons chief scout for the San Francisco 49ers professional football team, took over the hot seat as head coach today.

The selection of the one - time All - America fullback from St. Mary's to bring the San Francisco club its first pro championship was announced yesterday by Tony Morabito, president of the 49ers, and his brother, Vince, vice president.

The Morabitos fired L. T. (Buck) Shaw early this month after his injury - riddled club had dropped from first to third place in the Western Division standings of the National Football League.

In ousting Shaw, Morabito observed that the 49ers hadn't been able to win a championship in the nine years that Buck coached them and charged that Shaw - coached teams failed to win "the big games."

Introducing Strader as his new head coach yesterday, the club president tried to take the "in or else" curse off the job by announcing:

"Red will be here more than one year even if he doesn't win the championship."

Strader, Morabito stressed, will have "100 per cent" charge of the team, including selections for the professional league draft next month.

Strader had little to say.

"I made up my mind about myself only this morning," he explained and declared he had not had time to think about a coaching staff.

Minnesota Turns Back Irish 77-66

CHICAGO (AP)—Minnesota turned back Notre Dame 77-66 at Minneapolis last night to boost the Big Ten's basketball standing against outside competition to a .633 percentage.

Big Ten teams now have won 38 games and lost 22 as they ease down for the holiday week before opening conference championship action.

The next game for a Big Ten team is New Year's Eve when Princeton invades Northwestern. The next night, Wisconsin (3-3) in (no-league play) is at Illinois (6-1) to open the conference title campaign.

The race starts in earnest Jan. 3 with Michigan at Indiana, Iowa at Wisconsin, Michigan State at Ohio State and Minnesota at Northwestern.

Dick Garmaker, in a great duel with Notre Dame's Jack Stephens, netted 19 points to lead Minnesota to victory. Supporting him was 6-11 Bill Simonovich with 17 and Buck Lindsley with 16. Stephens and Lloyd Aubrey each hit 18 points for the Irish and John Smyth added 17.

Minnesota led 40-27 at halftime.

Ex-Grid Star Dies

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Funeral services will be held Sunday for Dr. Hunter Scarlett, 69, former All - America football player at the University of Pennsylvania, who died yesterday in the Veterans Administration Hospital.

Dr. Scarlett was an All-American end in 1908 and a ophthalmologist at his death.

A native of Erie, Pa., he leaves his widow.

Brown Says Weather To Decide Type Of Play Against Detroit

CLEVELAND (AP)—Paul Brown, who had his Cleveland Browns play a very conservative game last week, says the weather will determine how the pro football championship will be played off Sunday with Detroit's Lions.

"If it's another 'blizzard' with snow and bad footing, it might be very much the same," he said today.

The Lions scored on an 11-yard pass 50 seconds from the end of last Sunday's tilt and beat the Browns 14-10.

The Browns, ahead most of the way, threw only six passes and tried to prevent the Lions from converting an offensive lapse into a Detroit touchdown. Brown calls the plays himself for Cleveland.

For the third straight time the Browns will be attempting to stop the Lions from winning the National Football League championship. Since NFL playoffs started in 1933, no club has won three straight titles.

Brown, edgy and cautious in discussing his prospects, made it plain he thought Cleveland deserved its underdog position. But at the same time the coach made it clear his arch rivals could expect competition.

"There's nothing to this talk about the Lions having a jinx over us," he repeated. "They were just the better team last week."

"We'll play it out Sunday to see which is the better team this time," he continued.

Brown pointed out that last Sunday's performance by his star quarterback, Otto Graham, "was no criterion of Otto's ability." You can't judge a passer when he is not allowed to pass.

So far, the weather man has been as cautious as Brown. He refused to say how the sky and turf would be Sunday.

Cleveland practiced in a snow-rimmed mass of gooey mud yesterday. If those conditions continue through Sunday, Cleveland's speedie Ray Renfro may not get to play. Brown kept him on the bench last week, explaining that the left half would be wasted trying to run on a bad field.

Graham has yet to complete a touchdown pass against the Lions in two regular season games and two title playoffs. His opposite number, Bobby Layne, pitched for the deciding points in the last championship game as well as last week. Layne also had a better day of it in 1952, the first time the Lions and Browns met with the pennant at stake.

This game might be Graham's last chance to gain the upper hand. Now 33 years old, he is talking about retiring.

As for stopping Layne, Brown is very unspecific. He points out that a defense is a "team proposition." He mentions that Layne the last two times was throwing a lot for a team coming from behind. But he does not say what the Browns plan for this time.

The contest between the two quarterbacks should bring out their best. Both will be working against rough opposition. Detroit has the best defense in the league this year and Cleveland was second best.

Quakers Seek Fifth Win In Row Tuesday

The undefeated Salem High School basketball team will be after its fifth win of the season next Tuesday night as the Quakers meet Coach Donald Hinten's East Palestine Bulldogs at East Palestine.

The high-scoring Quakers are averaging 87.7 points per game and have been making over 43 per cent of their shots from the field. The locals' opposition has averaged 52 markers per contest and shot around the thirty per cent mark.

Coach Cabas and assistant coach Karl Zellers have worked with the Quakers all week in preparation for next Tuesday's tilt with the Bulldogs.

The Cabasmen will go into the contest as favorites and are expected to come up with their fifth straight win of the season without a loss.

With many former Cabasmen home for the Christmas holidays, the Quakers have had several scrimmage sessions this week. The locals have been working out every day from 9 a. m? to 1 p. m. in the SHS gym.

The Bulldogs will go into the game with a record of two losses and one win. Dover St. Joseph fell to the Bulldogs 68-65 while East Palestine lost to Wellsville 63-48 and to Springfield Twp. 51-42.

Hinten, in his first year as head coach at East Palestine, started the year off with four returning lettermen — Glen Mankin, Bill Phillips, Dave DeRhodes and Spike Henry.

The East Palestine contest will be the last of the year for the Cabasmen. The Quakers will be out of action until Friday night, Jan. 7 when the New Philadelphia round ballers invade the local gym. It will be New Philly's first appearance on a Salem cage schedule.

Saturday night, Jan. 8, the Ravenna Ravens travel here for a contest with the Quakers.

Missouri, Stanford Are Upset

By The Associated Press

College basketbal ltook time out for the holidays today after previously unbeaten Stanford was handed a bum Christmas present by Tulane and Missouri suffered a major upset at Houston.

Stanford's Indians stalked into New Orleans with a 4-0 record, but Tulane outsmrated the visitors in the final three minutes and earned a 67-62 victory.

At Houston, Missouri, a favorite for the Big Seven Conference title, was shocked by the Missouri Valley Conference Cougars 84-76 in a double overtime thriller. Missouri was ranked seventh nationally.

There were only a handful of games. Activities resume Monday in a week-long scramble featured by a dozen major holiday tournaments.

In another duel of importance last night, Minnesota conquered Notre Dame 77-66, both making their final appearance before leavnig to take part in tournaments. Minnesota plays in the Dixie Classic starting Monday at Raleigh, N.C., while Notre Dame goes into the Sugar Bowl Tourney beginning Dec. 28.

At Bowling Green, Ky., College of the Pacific ended a disastrous five-game road trip, dropping an 86-65 decision to Western Kentucky.

Stanford and Tulane were deadlocked at 60-all in the closing minutes when the Green Wave went into a freeze. It paid off. Three Stanford fouls gave Tulane six points and its fifth victory in six starts. Russ Lawler scored 25 points for Stanford. Jim Nowakowski and Hal Cervini each tallied 17 for Tulane.

Missouri led 30-28 at halftime in a game tied 15 times with the lead changing a dozen times in regulation play, which ended with the score 57-57. Norm Stewart, who led Missouri scoring with 22 points, got a goal with four seconds left to deadlock the first overtime 70-all. In the second overtime 10 of Houston's 14 points came on free throws. Jack Foster scored 29 points, Don Boldebuck 24 for Houston. Missouri, now 4-2, is in the Big Seven Tourney opening Monday.

Blue-Gray Tilt To Be Roughest

Both Coaches Say Other Team Strong

By AL LANIER

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Only light drills are scheduled today as North and South squads prepare to clash tomorrow in what experts predict may be the roughest Blue-Gray meeting in the 16-year history of the intersectional football game.

Although the North has shipped in as husky a bunch of Yankees as ever invaded the capital of the Confederacy, the oddsmakers are slow to give points on their whipping the Rebels for the first time in six years.

Northern Head Coach Don Faurot of Missouri and the South's top mentor, Frank Moseley of VPI, aren't helping any. Both of them stutter with superlatives when sizing up the other fellow's squad.

The 17th annual gridiron battle will be televised this year for the first time—a factor guaranteed to make the contestants play a bit rougher for the homefolks.

Judging by practice activity, the North is planning a heavy land attack to bolster the aerial offensive thrown up by two of the nation's better passers — Vic Eaton and Tony Sccardino of Missouri.

And when the Blues decide to run they have such ground gainers as Bob Herdon, Fred Baer and Max Burkett to carry the ball.

Herndon led the undefeated Oklahoma Sooners in rushing this year with 588 yards. Burkett picked up 528 for Iowa State and Baer had 439 with Michigan.

The Rebs are also perfecting a two-pronged offense to throw at the invaders. For the air war there's LSU's Al Doggett and Texas Tech's Jerry Johnson.

They'll be aiming at such prime backfield receivers as Alabama's Corky Tharp, Charlie Madison of Georgia and Dick Young of Chattanooga — not to mention their ends.

Tharp, Madison, Tennessee's Jimmy Wade and VPI's Howie Wright give the Confederates a potent running attack.

Mack Hopes A's Reach 1st Division

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)—Connie Mack's big wish for the new year "is that the Kansas City Athletics win the American League pennant, or at least finish in the first division."

Still loyal to the team he managed so long at Philadelphia, the arow-straight baseball leader said he would be on hand at West Palm Beach March 1 to welcome the players when they report for spring training, as has been his long-time custom.

He celebrated his 92nd birthday with a quiet dinner at the home of his son Connie Jr. last night.

"It looks as iff the 100 (year) mark will be easier to reach than Ithought," he commented.

The Grand Old Man of Baseball is improving steadily from a serious illness. He goes for short walks, visits his many friends here, eats three good meals daily and enjoys watching boxing on television.

Talks Opened On Move Of Team To Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Parke Carroll, general manager of the Kansas City Athletics, confers again today with a group of Columbus businessmen on the possible shift here of the Ottawa International League baseball franchise.

The conference was originally scheduled for Wednesday but was postponed when Carroll was unable to be here.

The new talks center on bringing the Ottawa team to Columbus, replacing the Columbus Red Birds, now moved to Omaha. The Athletics own the Ottawa franchise. Carroll first spoke to the Columbus group last week.

Businessmen in Tampa and St. Petersburg, Fla., had conferred previously with Carroll on bringing the Ottawa team to that area.

Alliance Opens City Parking Building

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP)—The city of Alliance yesterday opened a new all - steel municipal parking building. The six - tier building utilities a hoist to lift cars to the proper levels. It is the first turned out by the Alliance Machine Co., for 52 years a builder of large cranes. The cost to Alliance was $64,800, but the firm says it made its home town a special price. The building can hold 72 cars.

CHIROPRACTOR FREED

NORWALK, Ohio (AP)—Chiropractor Gene Souders of Willard, who decided to spend 90 days in jail rather than pay a $200 fine imposed on a conviction of practicing medicine without a license, was free today. Four of his friends paid the fine yesterday, telling Judge Robert J. Vette that more than 100 persons contributed to the fund. Dr. Souders pleaded innocent to the charge.

The highest score in the 30-year history of the East-West Shrine game is the 40-9 beating given the West by the East in 1948.

Battle Of The Bowls

Sports Editor, Cartoonist Offer 'Sure' Bowl Winners

By NEA Service

Sparks displaced the glow of ashes on the end of the long, black cigar. The gray mane swept over the desk, and ppaers flew in a bustle of activity.

"Euripides! Sophocles! Blasphphemies!" came a livid-faced bellow through a cloud of cumulous cigar smoke. "What is this? An office or a bagpipe rehearsal hall?"

From behind the nearby drawing board were faintly heard the eerie strains of the "Happy Days are Here Again Mambo" and the board tilted just a little higher.

It was a normal late December day.

NEA sports editor Harry Grayson was puzzling his annual New Year's Day Bowl game predictions and sports cartoonist Murray Olderman was countering with drawn pen-point.

The once-a-year counterpoi n t went like this.

ROSE BOWL

GRAYSON — Those Buckeye blokes are going to be bloated with self importance. Hopalong Cassaday will be reined by by big Southern California buckaroos. I look for an upset. Southern California 14, Ohio State 10.

OLDERMAN — Stick wth a winner, sir. Anybody knows (if they don't, Woody Hayes does) that Ohio State is No. 1 in the country. Southern Cal doesn't have enough of an attack to stand 'em off. Ohio State 27, Southern California 7.

SUGAR BOWL

GRAYSON — I hate to see those little Navy boys get all tangled up in honeysuckle and jasmine down New Orleans way. The Ole Miss boys are frightful monsters who run all day, and Eagle Day ruins you with the long pass. — Mississippi 20, Navy 14.

OLDERMAN — Don't give us that little boy stuff. My Team Named Desire hit Notre Dame with everything but the smoke stack. Besides, didn't monstrous Miss lose to Arkansas, which didn't have a lineman weighing more than 200 pounds? Navy 21, Mississippi 19.

COTTON BOWL

GRAYSON — Bowden Wyatt has an inspired team at Arkansas that takes advantage of mistakes. You have to be good to lose only one game in the Southwest Conference. Henry Moore will tear up Tech. Arkansas 13, Georgia Tech 7.

OLDERMAN — Georgia Tech makes a habit of winning Bowl games. I liked the way they finished real strong. Larry Morris at center is healthy again, and little scatbacks like Jimmy Thompson will have the eyes of Texas upon them. Georgia Tech 19, Arkansas 9.

ORANGE BOWL

GRAYSON — I don't want to hurt the feelings of my old friend, Biff Glassford, but, really, what's Nebraska doing in Miami this time of year? You've got to go with Jerry Barger and the tested Blue Devils. Duke 28, Nebraska 6.

OLDERMAN — This is my upset special. Army and Navy found out something about Duke, and I'm banking the Cornhuskers can do the same. Besides, the upset psychology never had a better setting. Nebraska 13, Duke 12.

GATOR BOWL

GRAYSON — No matter what the standings say, Baylor easily may have been the Southwest's best. They lost three by a total of 13 points. Billy Hooper is a fine quarterback and Del Shofner as good a sophomore as you'll see, averaging 104 yards every time he tucked the ball under his arm. A corking team in a corking game. Baylor 21, Auburn 14.

OLDERMAN — Once Shug Jordan got his men straightened away, there wasn't a better team in college football than Auburn (it says here). If you don't believe us, ask Miami of Florida. Watch Joe Childress run and Bobby Freeman thro to Jim Pyburn. Auburn 26, Baylor 13.

EAST-WEST

GRAYSON — Bobby Dodd says Ralph Guglielmi is the finest football player in the country. That's a good start for building a team. The res tof the pieces have to fall into place. East 20, West 6.

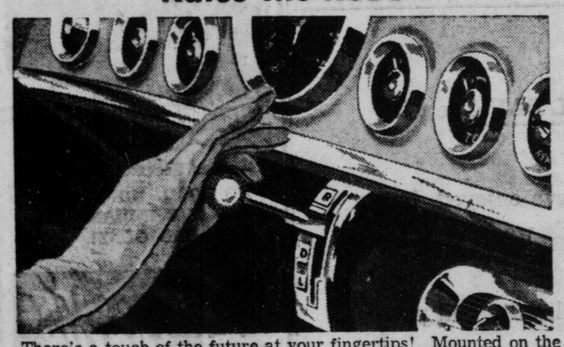

OLDERMAN — How about Paul Larson, George Shaw and Dickie Moegle on the same team? Then add the strength of the UCLA line in Jack Ellena, Sam Boghosi a n, and Jim Salsbury. We can't miss. West 21, East 13.

SUN BOWL

GRAYSON — Florida State shaded Mississippi Southern in bagging eight of the last nine and should maintain the momentum against Texas Western. Florida State 27, Texas Western 21.

OLDERMAN — Texas Western's most imposing victory was a 41-21 shellacking of Arizona and the Miners beat Hardin-Simmons on the way to a 7-3 record, which rather plainly indicates that they should be able to handle Florida State on their home grounds. Texas Western 34, Florida State 13.

Southern Cal Works On Pass Attack

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Southern California's Trojans emphasized their passing attack and Ohio State pass defense as both teams wound up pre-holiday workouts today for the Rose Bowl engagement.

Coach Jess Hill of USC indicated that much of his practice has been devoted to the overhead game, with quarterback Jim Contratto throwing to a variety of receivers.

Woody Hayes, the Buckeye coach, admittedly "not satisfied" with a lengthy pass defense drill yesterday, said "we'll go at it again today."

Two Ohio State right handers emulated southpaw Contratto in tossing the ball.

"They completed too many passes," said Hayes. But he did not seem in the least alarmed.

He said he had no lefthanded passers, and a bystander countered with, "you're a lefthander, aren't you"

"I still say we don't have any lefthand passers," Hayes rejoined, chuckling.

Hayes said the squad will not practice Christmas Day, as had previously been indicated. Asked if the decision had been left to the squad, he cracked, "Yes—I suggested that they didn't have to work Saturday and they agreed.

'Actually," the coach of the Big Ten champions went on, "we will have practiced hard for five straight days, counting today. You can grind an axe just so long and it'll lose its touch."

Hayes was asked if any new tactics were introduced in the drill on offense.

In obvious good humor, the man who teaches nothing but the straight T-style of attack replied with tongue in cheek, "Yes, we put in a short punt and a little single wing."

Across own in Los Angeles, the Trojans also worked behind guarded gates.

Hill said he would lead off New Year's Day with virtually the same team that started most of the Trojan games this fall. This means that Lindon Crow, who missed the last game against Notre Dame because of a knee injury, will go at right half. And Orlando Ferrante, another erstwhile casualty, will start at right guard.

Presence of both materially helps the Trojan hopes. But the visiting Buckeyes remain 12½ point favorites to win.

Movie Studio Fire Doesn't Follow Script

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A fire at the Universal - International Studio didn't follow the script yesterday.

The script called for actress Anne Baxter to throw a book at leading man Rock Hudson, knocking over a kerosene lamp. She threw and the lamp was knocked over. The flames swept up acetate drapes. Standby crews were unable to contain them as they whipped to the top of the 80-foot-high sound stage.

The heat opened sprinklers over an adjacent stage and caused damage to other sets prepared for the movie. No estimate of the loss was available.

Santa Is Off!

By HAL BOYLE

NORTH POLE (AP) — He's off!

Santa Claus is on his way at last!

The jolly old saint and his famous reindeer are zooming through the Arctic skies right now, heading for the American border. He'll each it tonight.

The northern lights switched on to a clear steady green—the "go ahead" signal. And the Royal Canadian Mounted Police sent Santa this message:

"We are clearing all air lanes in your path, old boy. There is no speed limit for you tonight. The sky is yours. Go as fast as you like. Good luck!"

And Santa needed that wide clear road in the sky. For his big red sled was piled so high with gifts it overflowed. It looked like a flying hayrack as it raced through the crisp cold air.

"Oh, dear, oh dear," worried Santa, just before the takeoff. "I do hope none of these presents fall out and bean some poor innocent rabbit down below. I believe this must be the heaviest load I've had in twenty years."

"What is he fretting about" whispered Donder to Vixen. "He's only riding in that sled. We have to pull it."

Vixen laughed so hard the bells on his harness tinkled in merry music. And all the other reindeer laughed, too.

As Santa Claus climbed up into the seat of the sled, puffing a little because he has gained some weight this winter, three black and white penguins waddled across the snow in front of the reindeer.

"Here, here, get out of the way, please," said Santa Claus importantly. Then he said, surprised:

"Why what are you penguins doing up at the North Pole anyway You're supposed to be at the South Pole."

"We're on a vacation," said one of the penguins. "We're looking for Florida. Have you seen it anywhere"

"Climb aboard, climb aboard," boomed Santa. "I'll drop you off there. But I must say this is the first time I ever picked up three hitchhikers wearing tuxedoes.

Just then Mrs. Santa Claus came running out waving a long piece of paper.

"You almost forgot your list of good children," she said.

"Never mind,' said Santa, "I don't need it. This year I am going to give a present to every little boy and girl, good or bad. The bad ones will feel sorry then, because they know they don't deserve a nice present. "It'll make 'em try harder to be good next year."

"That isn't according to Hoyle," said Mrs. Claus, who likes to play bridge. "But it does make sense, you old softie."

Santa stood up to crack his whip in the air—the signal to be off. But then he heard a small voice crying:

It was Cluny, Santa's favorite little elf. The other elves gossiped about Cluny and said she was clumsy at making toys. But Santa knew it was only because she was so young. He liked her because she had a good heart.

"Here," said the tiny elf, holding up a small shiny figure.

"What's this What's this" grumblel Santa. "You're too late. My pack is already loaded."

"It is only my present to the world," said Cluny. "I made it at night in my room—all by myself."

Santa took the little figure from her hands. It was a beautiful angel with butterfly wings and a robe of purest white. In her hand the angel held a small magic wand.

"It is the angel of peace," explained Cluny.

"Why, Cluny!" said Santa. "This is better than all the other gifts put together. I'll see that your angel waves her wand for one day at least over every home in the land."

And he picked up Cluny and gave her a big whisker-tickly kiss on her cheek. Then he picked up his long whip again and cracked it sharply in the frosty air.

"Ho, ho, ho, here we go!" he roared. "Ho, ho, ho! here we go!"

The eight reindeer leaped forward and the big sled began sliding throuh the snow. Faster, faster, faster, faster—and then they were off the ground and into the air.

Parakeet Owners Told Yule Tree Needles Fatal

BALTIMORE (AP)—An anonymous but urgent voice sounded on the Baltimore Sun's telephone last night with a communication that may be unique in the long history of Christmas messages. It's addressed to parakeet owners:

"Please," said the caller, "find ome way of warning parakeet owners that they must not let their birds eat the needles on the Christmas tree.

"If they do, it'll kill them. I know. It happened to me last Christmas."

Weather Bureau Sees Lots of Barometer Gifts

BALTIMORE (AP)—It really isn't fair to tell anyone what he is getting for Christmas, but the Weather Bureau forecast today that lots of Baltimoreans are getting barometers.

Herbert Ailkire reported the phones were busy all day yesterday with calls from givers who wanted to get the correct readings to set the gift barometers.

Armless Child Uses Toes To Find What Santa Has Brought

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — It doesn't take two arms and two legs for an inquisitive youngster to find out what surprises Santa Claus has in store.

Louise, the Waxahachie, Tex., baby born without arms and abandoned by her real parents, is doing all right with 10 nimble toes.

Hardly had she finished with her big birthday party—she was 2 last Friday—than she began exploring for the gift-wrapped packages hidden in the home of her adopted parents, Mr. and Mrs. Euene Capps, of Seagoville, near here. She uses her nimble, sensitive toes as another child would fingers.

Before Mrs. Capps knew what was happening, Louise had found her No. 1 Christmas present—a big doll with dark hair and black eyes like Louise. Since then doll and girl can't be separated.

The other night the Capps heard a crash in the living room. Louise and toppled the glittering christmas tree with her inquisitive toes. The tree has been righted but it leans slightly.

Though Louise began life with a dark future, she now has loving parents and security. The Capps own a prosperous chicken farm. Louise is the legal owner of 200 healthy hens, whose eggs will produce an estimated $7,000 in cash for her by the time she is 10.

Louise has many friends throughout the nation who want to help her. One friend, Col. Wesley W. Price, of Astoria, Ore., has been writing to Mrs. Capps about Louise since he read a newspaper story last August. The retired Army officer sent a musical rocking chair that plays "Rockaby Baby" as a Christmas gift.

But Louise found that too. Now she spends much of her time rocking her Christmas doll in her Christmas rocker.

HEAD MAN — Charles B. Shuman, of Sullivan, Ill., is the new head of the American Farm Bureau Federation. He was chosen to succeed Allan B. Kline, who resigned because of poor health.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

The unions, whose lobbyists have been fighting for higher taxes on stock market dividends, are themselves rapidly moving into the big-time class of blue chip coupon clippers and are earning millions of dollars in such dividends themselves.

Victor Riesel

However, regardless of how high the tax now goes on stock market dividends, it will not affect the millions collected annually by union treasuries and welfare and pension funds. They are tax free.

This gives the union funds untaxed incomes of millions of dollars annually — and soon will give them a self-made headache. For there is quiety starting in Washington and on Wall Street a drive to get these union funds and treasuries taxes as heavily as private funds.

This fight was sparked in great part by the virtually unpublicized report that the pile driving, toughest union chief of them all, the teamsters young powerhouse, Jim Hoffa, had two of his funds buy a million dollars worth of Montgomery Ward stck.

THIS GAVE HOFFA control of some 13,000 shares, apaper profit of $26,000 since his funds picked up the shares — and annual dividends of some 39,000 tax free dollars.

This stock purchase last week by the Michigan Conference of Teamsters' Health and Welfare Fund and the Automobile Transport Drivers' Health and Welfare Fund stirred considerable whispering because Hoffa bought into a company over which there is a fight for control. Hoffa has friends in the camp of young Louis Wilfson, now controlling 6,700,000 voting shares in Montgomery Ward.

While Hoffa's 13,000 shares can't much affect the final voting in the fight to oust the administration of Sewell Avery, it may start a move for other unions to buy in and help Wolfson in the battle for the big mail order house. Hoffa is one of labor's most influential personalities now, with powerful followings in at least 10 other international unions.

However, Hoffa said he bought the 13,000 shares strictly as an investment. So we'll have to wait and see how those votes are cast.

Drama, too, was added to Hoffa's purchase by the announcement that a section of his union was launching a wide drive on Montgomery Ward to unionize the company's nine mail order houses.

THIS ALARMED many industrialists, who now have visions of union leaders controlling large blocs of stock in companies labor seeks to unionize and later bargain with for higher wages and welfare fringes.

So the Hoffa move into the stock market created a stir. But it is far from setting a precedent. The roughest kind of survey indicates that unions already have hundreds of millions of dollars "on the market" and are making millions of dollars annualy in dividends.

The unions themselves and their funds hold blocs of shares in U.S. Steel, American Telephone and Telegraph, the oil companies and at least 200 other secutities.

Dave Beck's Teamsters International made $1,100,000 from its investments in the past year, some of these being in mortgages as well as the market.

Dave McDonald's United Steelworkers recently revealed that as of June 30, 1954, it had $11,251,553 invested in securities — an increase of $1,811,523.21 over Dec. 31, 1953. Just six months. This does not include any investments which might have been made by the steelworkers' locals throughout the country.

According to the steelworkers' central financial report, its securities investments brought the union a neat $87,872.92 profit. It also made an additional profit of $78,-815.34 — on the sale of securities.

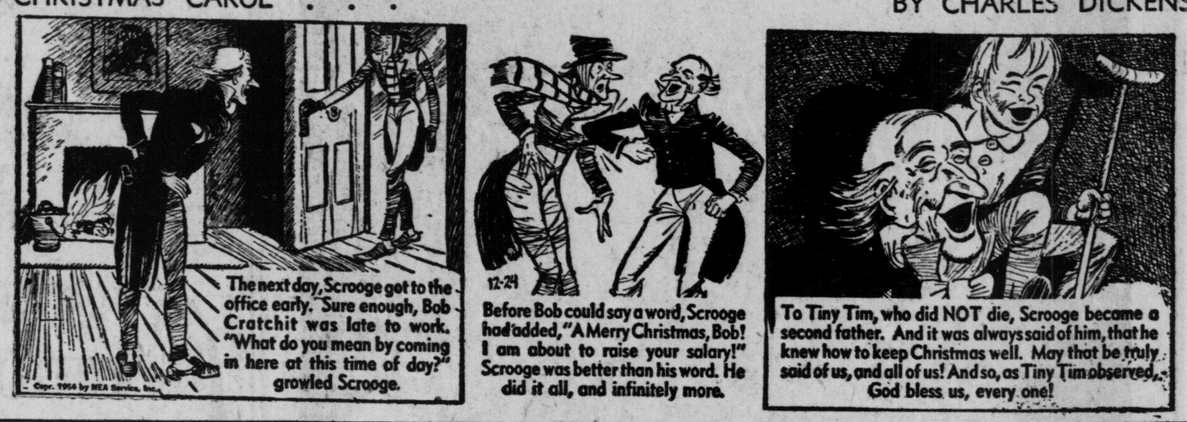

-:-

THE LIST OF unions which also have made heavy Wall Street profits is too long to list here, for it runs from bricklayers to retail clerks. That's what disturbs some business circles. They see the unions buying bigger and bigger blocs of shares and perhaps soon exerting an influence in their corporations.

Walter Reuther, for example, has already demanded a voice in the investment of the 500 million dollar Auto Union pension fund, instead of just a voice in the administration of the fund.

Half a billion dollars can buy a lot of stock and wield much influence. Maybe some day Wall Street wil shut down on Labor Day for more than one reason. It may be the Street's personal holiday, too.
